HAVANA IN DANGER FROM INSURGENTS

BUT THREE THOUSAND MEN ARE AVAILABLE FOR DEFENSE OF CAPITAL CITY.

Special to the Herald.

Havana, Sept. 15.—Pino Guerra's army coming from Pinar del Rio province, reached Alamesa, twenty-five miles from Havana, and the capital is again in danger of being captured by rebels. In Havana province General Castillo has driven the loyalists in the suburbs into the country, and has cleared for the insurgent advances. Three thousand men are available for the defense of Havana. Guerra and Castillo are now arranging for an union of their forces. The insurgents seem undetermined, and by the notice of Roosevelt they may stop fighting.

COUNT WITTE HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

RUSSIAN STUDENT MAKES AN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE COUNT WITTE.

Special to the Herald.

Wiesbaden, Sept. 15.—Armed with a bomb, a revolver and a dagger, a Russian student named Rosenberg today made an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Count Witte. The attack was made at some watering place near here, where Witte had gone to drink the waters. As Witte was leaving his carriage to enter a hotel Rosenberg made the attack. Detectives who were guarding Witte seized the student before he could throw the bomb or use the weapons. The would-be assassin was overpowered and taken to jail. Witte did not lose his nerve in the presence of danger, although it was seen he paled slightly. He thanked the officers who saved his life.

MEXICAN SOLDIERS ARE CONCENTRATED

IN MEXICO.—GOVERNMENT, DESPITE ASSURANCES, FEARS THERE WILL BE TROUBLE.

Special to the Herald.

City of Mexico, Sept. 14.—The best indication that the Mexican government is alarmed and seriously so at the reports of a probable outbreak on the part of the Mexican laborers against the Americans and other foreigners on Independence day is the fact that all saloons and pulque shops have been ordered to close from the evening of September 15 until after the close of the Mexican celebration on the morning of September 17.

This applies to all cities and towns where there are Americans and is a very radical move on the part of the government. A Mexican celebration of Independence day without wine and champagne flowing freely for the rich, gin and beer for the middle class and an abundance of pulque for the poor is like a German picnic without beer. It will take all the life and spirit out of a great Mexican fiesta, and only the gravest alarm could have induced such a move on the part of the government.

Not only must the saloons keep closed, but severe punishment will be visited on any one who distributes any kind of intoxicating liquor free or is found in an intoxicated condition.

The men who had planned the uprising intended to fill the Mexican people with aguardiente, pulque and other cheap intoxicants and when drunk would fire them on to the deeds of outrage. Gambling will also be greatly restricted.

Regulars and regular soldiers are now being concentrated in every city of importance in the Republic and should the agitators start an outbreak and the soldiers stand by the government there will be some bloody work. Only equalled by some of the worst in the history of the Mexican soldier is cruel and he has orders to fire to kill on any one of his countrymen who attempt any demonstration toward the Americans.

A large number of Americans are already sending their families into Texas to remain until after the celebration and some of the more timid men who have the leisure are following them. Others, however, with large property interests have armed themselves and the American employees and will remain by their property. They firmly believe that ten Americans properly armed will be a match for a hundred Mexicans. The tip has been quietly sent out to Americans with property interests that if a few Mexicans should be killed in case they are attempting to destroy property the government will look on the offense leniently. This will greatly encourage the Americans in defending their property, for few care to become involved in criminal prosecution under the severe Mexican law.

Though with the approach of the festivities there is a lowering cloud over the republic and many Mexicans with scowling countenances and darkened visages are seen, unless the army turns traitors there will be considerable difficulty in anything of a serious nature occurring. Of course, even with the most stringent precautions, it is possible for a torch to start a conflagration that will cost thousands of lives, and that is what is most feared.

AFTER THE BANDITS.

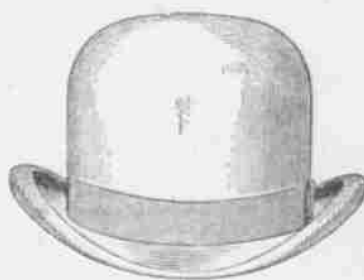

Men Who Attempted to Hold Up a Train Near Peoria, Ill.

Special to the Herald.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 15.—It is believed by the posse searching that the men who attempted to hold up a train within a mile of this city last night will soon be captured. Soon this morning it was learned two men entered the city after the train left and sold Fred Woodruff a revolver for half a dollar. The man who sold the pistol is a notorious local character. Later three men answering the description of the bandits hired a boat, which was found deserted on the other side of the river. Deputies are following the trail.

NEWS FORECAST OF COMING WEEK.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.—Hearings will be begun in New York Monday by the Commission on Rules and Regulations of the Pure Food Law in order that the food manufacturers of the country may have an opportunity to make suggestions concerning regulations for the enforcement of the new pure food law.

Republicans of New Hampshire will meet in convention Tuesday to name a state ticket. More than ordinary interest centers in the event because of the fight of Winston Churchill, the novelist, for the gubernatorial nomination. The great issue of the fight is the question of corporation domination in politics.

The foggy condition of the political atmosphere in New York is likely to be considerably clarified by the primaries on Tuesday. The factional disputes in both the Republican and Democratic parties will make the primaries the hardest fought in years. The Republican factions in Connecticut will fight it out for control at the state convention to be held Wednesday.

The football season of 1906 will be ushered in Saturday with several games in both the East and West. As a rule the games will be in the nature of practice skirmishes in which the larger colleges will line up against some of the smaller schools as a first step in the work of getting into proper trim for the big games to be played later in the season.

Three unusually large conventions are to be held in Canada during the week. The most important of these is the annual communication of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, which will attract members of the fraternity to Toronto from many parts of the world. The Canadian Association of Manufacturers will meet in Winnipeg Monday, and the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress will begin its sessions the same day in Victoria, B. C.

TYPHOID CAUSED FROM OYSTERS

NEW YORK'S STATE HEALTH OFFICER MAKES THIS STARTLING STATEMENT TODAY.

Special to the Herald.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 15.—That autumnal increase in the number of typhoid cases is caused by the opening of the oyster season, is the startling announcement made by Dr. Herbert D. Pease of the New York state health board.

"Expert authorities agree that the sudden swelling of the list of typhoid cases at the beginning of September is directly due to the fact that at that time people begin to eat raw oysters, mussels and other shell fish," he said. "Several extensive evidences have been definitely traced to eating of oysters which had been fattened at the mouths of sewers or in other badly polluted waters."

Lawson will go abroad for an indefinite stay. In a circular issued to stockholders Lawson remarks: "Contemplated absence will prevent me giving further advice to shareholders."
